NEW YEAR'S KILLING

Tennessee Men Meet Here In Saloon and Settle Their Troubles.

T. J. TAYLOR SLAYS C. KNIGHT

Domestic Scandal Given As the Cause of Trouble By Slayer.

A scandal that had its beginning at Weaver's Store, Tenn., ended in a homicide in a saloon here Saturday night.

T. J. Taylor, aged 49, shot and instantly killed Claud Knight, aged 23. Taylor charges that he induced his wife to leave him and their three children several weeks ago.

A few minutes before the shooting occurred, Taylor had been talking to Police Lieutenant Hawkins, telling him his troubles. He went to the saloon from the police office, and had just had a drink but is said to have been sober, and was chatting with the barkeeper when Knight entered the door. Without a word, Taylor drew his pistol and began firing and at the first shot Knight reeled against a showcase, crying out, "Don't do that." Taylor fired twice more and Knight fell to the floor dying. One bullet struck him in the left breast, making a flesh wound, and the other entered just to the left of the backbone and ranged upward, probably striking the heart. Taylor walked a square to a store he was in the habit of patronizing and when he came out a policeman was standing in front. Taylor walked up to the officer and surrendered. When he reached the police office he remarked to Lieut. Hawkins, "I killed that man. I shot him three times." This was all the statement he would make.

Those who know Taylor say he is a man of excellent reputation. He had talked to some of his friends here in town previously about his alleged marital troubles. Mrs. Taylor is 38 years of age.

Knight's body was removed from the saloon to an undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial.

Knight's body was taken to Weaver's Store Sunday for interment. He was a son of Gus Knight.

Mrs. Taylor was in the city at the time the tragedy took place.

Taylor is in jail, but it is said can give bond for almost any amount. People of the Lafayette neighborhood give Taylor a good reputation as a peaceful, quiet citizen.

JUSTICE LAMAR PASSES AWAY

Associate Member of Supreme Court For Last 5 Years.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Joseph Rucker Lamar, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his home here last night after an illness of several months. He was 58 years old and had been on the Supreme Court bench five years.

The immediate cause of death was gradual heart failure, hastened by inflammation of one of the lungs, which had threatened to develop into pneumonia.

ELKS' ROLL CALL

In a response to a request made by Grand Exalted Ruler Nicholson, Hopkinsville lodge No. 545, B. P. O. E., will, in connection with its regular meeting tonight, have a roll call, and every member is asked to be on hand to answer his name or to send a written explanation of his absence. Exalted Ruler Morrow is arranging a program of short talks on topics of vital interest to the lodge.

TALK OF BOND ISSUE

For Building of Future Turnpikes In Christian County.

FISCAL COURT'S NEW POLICY

Resolutions Adopted to Build No New Pikes Out of Levy For 1916.

"Be it resolved, That it is the sense of this Fiscal Court that no new turnpikes or metal roads shall be built or constructed out of the Road and Bridge levy for 1916, since the said levy is not sufficient and is now totally inadequate to do the necessary repair work on the dirt roads and old turnpikes and to carry out the present contracts now in force."

At a called meeting of the fiscal court held Friday the above resolution was unanimously adopted. This resolution was offered by County Judge Knight and it was promptly seconded and as promptly passed.

Furthermore a committee consisting of the entire court, together with County Attorney Smith and Road Engineer Dillman and Judge Knight, was appointed to meet with the Christian County Good Roads Association at some date to be agreed upon and consider the proposition of taking a vote on a big bond issue, the proceeds to be used for good roads. This meeting will be held as soon as practicable and if it is decided at that time that an election on a bond issue is liable to meet with favor, it will probably be called for some date in the early spring.

For the past six years, the Court has been spending $20,000 to $30,000 on new turnpikes. Last year it spent $25,000, the entire road and bridge fund being $35,000. This left only $10,000 with which to repair and keep in repair 600 miles of dirt roads and 200 miles of turnpike, an amount entirely inadequate.

Kids Wed.

Arthur Moore and Miss Ethel Warren, each fifteen years of age, of near Worthville, were married at Corydon, Dec. 30.

NO CHANGE MADE YET

Commissioners Took Charge With all Old Officers on Duty.

BOARD NOT ORGANIZED YET

First Meeting Was Planned For Afternoon or Evening.

There were few evidences of a change in the city government yesterday. The same workhouse crew was on the streets bright and early. The same police were on duty and nothing indicated that a shake-up would be made soon.

Commissioners Frank Bassett and Will R. Wicks went to the City Clerk's office at 9 o'clock and held a conference with C. A. Cundiff, the retiring city engineer. Lawson Flack, the new city clerk, was with them. They stated that they would hold their first session at 9 o'clock to-day. Mayor Yost was not present but arrived a little later. The law makes the Mayor the presiding officer of the Board of Commissioners.

Gov. Stanley is having a great deal of trouble with office seekers, at least one of whom is threatening to sue him and make him give him a place.

AUSTRIA'S BACK-DOWN

Meets Cardinal Points of American Demands Better Than Germany Has Done.

NOW LIKE LUSITANIA CASE

Points Left for Further Discussion Are Not Likely to Bring New Crises.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Austria's reply to the Ancona note not only meets the cardinal points of the American demands but gives assurances for the future which are considered more satisfactory in their extent than those which were given by Germany.

The full American official view will not be known until after President Wilson has studied the Austrian reply, which was received Friday from Ambassador Penfield and was immediately dispatched to Hot Springs by a White House messenger.

It may be stated authoritatively, nevertheless, that danger of a rupture of diplomatic relations has passed and the controversy now enters the same stage as the Lusitania negotiations with Germany, on even a more favorable basis.

PASSENGERS WILL BE SAVED.

Austria in the Ancona case has subscribed to the principle that no ship will be sunk unless they offer resistance or flee, without the persons aboard being brought to safety. This is considered an assurance that is far-reaching and satisfactory.

Germany only promised not to attack "liners" until the person aboard had been placed in boats. The extent of the designation liners has never been cleared up and the American government does not concede that placing persons in boats necessarily assures their safety.

Points which Austria leaves for further diplomatic correspondence are not considered of a nature to bring on a new crisis. Chief among them are questions of fact which affects Austria's responsibility for what happened before the submarine commander torpedoed the Ancona and their importance is minimized by the promise to pay indemnity for the Americans lost regardless of the absence of proof as to just how they met their death.

TROUBLE SATURDAY

Negro Man Shot in Stomach and His Death Momentarily Expected.

BOTH MEN IN LOCKUP

Man Charged With Shooting Surrenders at Police Headquarters.

Tom Yancey, col., was shot in the stomach Saturday about midnight and the wound will probably prove fatal. Yancey claims that he was shot by Otho Chiles, another negro. The shooting occurred at the house of Sarah Belle McReynolds, col., on North Lovier street. It seems that Chiles was in the house when Yancey arrived, and it is claimed the latter first called the woman out and after abusing her, he asked if Chiles was in the house. Chiles came out and he claims that Yancey snapped a pistol at him, when he fired. Yancey tells a different story. He states that when Chiles appeared on the porch he asked him for a cigarette and that Chiles said "all right," and then shot him. Chiles left the premises after the shooting, but an hour or so later, surrendered at police headquarters and was locked up.

Yancey was also brought to headquarters and locked up. It is believed that he can survive but a few hours longer.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Will Begin Its Session To-day---Caucuses Held Yesterday.

DUFFY AND COMBS SPEAKERS

Effort to Be Made to Revise State's Antiquated Taxation Laws.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 3.—Kentucky's capital to-day presents a scene similar to that enacted every two years upon the eve of the convening of the legislature. The assembly will not be formally convened until Tuesday, although both democrats and republicans will hold caucuses today.

It is conceded that Capt. H. C. Duffy of Harrison county, will be chosen speaker of the lower house of the general assembly without opposition. Thomas A. Combs of Lexington will be chosen president pro tem. of the senate without opposition. Eli Berry, who was clerk of the house at the last session, likely will be selected clerk. He was in Stanley headquarters all through the primary campaign and in the general campaign.

Jesse Alverson and Capt. Wiley Dixon are candidates for clerk of the senate.

The most important legislation to be considered this session will be the enactment of a law revising the state's antiquated system of taxation. This law, before it can become effective, must be ratified by popular vote.

Efforts, it is said, will be made by both prohibitionists and women's suffrage advocates to force through measures providing for referendum votes on these two issues. The "drys" passed a prohibition amendment through both branches of the legislature last session, but were unable to put the measure up to the people because of its lacking a constitutional majority in the senate.

Mothers' pensions, probably, will come in for a share of the legislature's deliberations, as will a proposed workmen's compensation act, a corrupt practices statute and the elaboration of road laws now on the books.

DEATH OF WM. LANIER

Well Known North Christian Citizen Passes Away Sunday Night.

William Lanier, a brother of Mr. Joseph Lanier, of this city, died Sunday night at his home near Crofton. Grip and other complications caused his death. Mr. Lanier was about 60 years old and was a well known citizen of North Christian. He had been twice married and his wife and two children by his first marriage survive.

HUGE RUSSIAN FORCE FIGHTING

War Front of Three Hundred Miles Scene of Desperate Battle.

SUCCESS OVER HUNGARIANS

Colossal Attempt to Drive Tens Out of Balkans and Subdue Turkey.

London, Jan. 3.—Russia's campaign in Bessarabia continues to be the most important visible war activity. From the Pripet to the Romanian frontier, over a front of at least three hundred miles, a huge Russian force, with a great appearance of confidence, is hurling sledge hammer blows at the opposing forces, which, according to all accounts, totals at least one and a half millions men.

Petrograd still claims considerable successes in the early stages of the campaign, and dispatches emphasize the excellent equipment, supplies and munitions that Russia laid up for this purpose during a period of comparative passivity.

Some London observers, speculating on the meaning of the Bessarabian move, hail it as one of the most ambitious strategic plans since the beginning of hostilities, and predict that it will prove a colossal attempt to break the backbone of the German allies' whole line across the Balkans.

The sinking of the steamship Persia, with the death of an American consular officer, brings up in the European capitals the familiar query as to what the United States will do now. Dispatches from English correspondents picture the sinking of the Persia as a particularly aggravated case, owing to the fact that the ship was not only hit without warning or opportunity for the passengers to escape, but was also hit in a most vital part, so that she sank almost immediately, the whole time from the launching of the torpedo to the disappearance of the liner being only five minutes.

In connection of the submarine activity in the Mediterranean it is interesting to note that an official report shows a total of only twenty British steamships sunk by the submarines during the month of December, with the loss of sixty-seven lives, while eight more were sunk by mines, with the loss of thirteen lives.

TUTT'S ALGRAIN.

Mr. Tutt, who was connected with the breakfast food known as the Dixie Breakfast Food, and more recently as the Golden Grain Food, announces that he will remain in Hopkinsville and manufacture the food under the new name of "Tutt's Algrain." The Golden Grain Co. has moved to Nashville.

Gasoline continues to rise in price and is now about 20 cents, 75 per cent. higher than it was last fall.

Owensboro's city administration went into office yesterday, with Mayor Hickman a hold-over Democrat.

The Ford peace party is now in Copenhagen. The mayor of Stockholm invited them to hold their permanent meetings in Sweden, if not allowed to proceed to The Hague.

Forty-seven men in Indiana who have lost a leg have formed an organization. Just to cheer them up a little, we rise to remark that they have one big advantage—they have only one leg to be pulled.

The only two Democrats elected Governor of Minnesota in recent years have both died in office to be succeeded by Republicans. Gov. Jno. A. Johnson died in 1909 and Gov. W. S. Hancock last week.

Miss Margaret Wilson and Miss Helen Woodrow Bones, the President's cousin, are to leave the White House and take up settlement work in New York. A new White House surgeon will also succeed Passed Assistant Surgeon Cary T. Grayson, U. S. A.

Former Vice-President Charles W. Fairbanks was indorsed at a love feast in Indianapolis as Indiana's choice for the republican nomination for president and at the same meeting, which filled to overflowing the largest theater in the state, Edwin P. Morrow pledged him the solid delegation from Kentucky in the national convention at Chicago next June.

Ed Morrow is just now riding on the top wave of personal popularity with the Republican party. He is being mentioned for Governor in 1919, for Congress next fall, for Senator against Ollie James and for Vice President on the ticket with Fairbanks. The consensus of opinion is that Ed is too warm to run well with an iceberg, so let him tackle Caleb Powers and we will all be for him.

The body of Miss Margaret Curtiss, 19 years old, daughter of Julien W. Curtiss, vice president of A. C. Spalding & Brothers, was found in a vacant lot not far from her home in Greenwich, Conn. She was a somnambulist and her parents believe that she wandered from her room in the night and died of exposure. The body was fully dressed. Miss Curtiss had been attending a private school in Massachusetts and was home for the holidays.

Statewide prohibition became effective in seven states with the coming in of the new year. They are Colorado, Iowa, Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Arkansas and South Carolina. When Virginia closes its saloons on November 1, 1916, nineteen states will have joined the dry column. Nebraska, California, Michigan, South Dakota, Vermont and the Territory of Alaska will vote on prohibition this year and several other states are expected to balance the question.

FARM POULTRY

MATING RHODE ISLAND REDS

To Get Proper Shade That Is Required by Standard One Must Breed From Darkest Reds.

In mating Rhode Island Reds you must, to get the proper shade that is required by the standard, breed from your darkest red fowls. Breeding in any other way gives you a large number of birds decidedly too light in color and badly off in shape.

The Rhode Island Red, though an American bird, is a very old family. It is descended from an oldtime red fowl, sometimes simply called the Red breed and sometimes the Everlasting Layer. Even long ago it carried the peculiar long body it carries today.

For nearly sixty years now this breed has been crossed and outcrossed to give it strength, retain its laying quality and color, the last something not permanent to the standard set for it without taking great care to keep it so.

EXPENSE OF POULTRY FOODS

Prices Are Not to Decrease as Some Poultry Keepers Expected—Protein is a Necessity.

The high price of good poultry foods is not on the decrease as some poultry keepers thought it would be. It continues so high that even on the farm the owner has begun to count its cost in the outlay to his chickens. To do this on the farm is a loss if the food is withheld, for poultry products on the farm outrank in price the high rate of food.

The protein feeds are highest in price unless it be some of the meals, such as cottonseed, so plentiful in the South, but this is so dangerous if fed in quantities that often fowls are sacrificed to this cheapness, or at least it is the experience of many given that to make cottonseed meal even so much as one-tenth the bulk of the poultry feed is dangerous.

However, the New Jersey experiment station is making a test of this and we will soon get real facts in the matter. Clover and alfalfa are cheap protein foods, but even with these we can overdo their feeding.

DESIRABLE TO PUSH PULLETS

Variety Is as Important as Liberal Quantity in Feeding to Increase the Egg Yield.

From now on, the price of eggs will rule high until the spring months, and it is desirable to push the pullets along.

Liberal feeding, beginning with either a good dry or moist mash in the morning, plenty green stuff, and meat scraps with some cut bone, and in evening good dry grain, should hurry the egg production.

Variety is as important as liberal quantity in feed.

LATE HATCHES FOR BROILERS

Good Returns May Be Secured From Birds If Given Warm Quarters, Good Feed and Range.

Late-hatched chickens if kept in warm quarters, and fed properly, with sufficient range and some green food, may be turned off for broilers after the holiday season is over and bring a sum that is worth while.

A late turkey is unlike a chicken, inasmuch as a small chicken is the acme of quality, while a small turkey is not apt to be, but the turkey can be kept until it is large and plump and bring its price.

Crowding Causes Trouble.

If the hen houses are going to be crowded, reduce the flock to the point where it will have plenty of room, for crowded quarters are likely to cause trouble, including disease, and stock in crowded quarters never proves as profitable.

PASTEURIZED MILK IN FAVOR

Great Advantage in Process is to Insure Freedom From Disease-Producing Organisms.

The great advantage in pasteurizing market milk is to insure its freedom from disease-producing organisms. This is a point which is constantly brought forward in favor of pasteurization of milk. Of course the pasteurized milk will have better keeping qualities than the same milk that has not been pasteurized and of course this is an advantage from the standpoint of the milk dealer, and is also an advantage to the milk consumer.

Outside the cost of the process, there are practically no disadvantages connected with the pasteurization of milk. This is especially true with the way pasteurization is conducted today. There is absolutely no doubt but that milk properly pasteurized and properly handled subsequent thereto is just as healthful a food for children as well as for adults as is raw milk.

Most of the commercial pasteurization of market milk at the present time is done by heating the milk to 145 degrees for approximately thirty minutes. This temperature and time of exposure does not change the milk physically or chemically to any appreciable extent. If milk is heated to higher temperatures or for longer periods of time, the creaming powers of the milk will be influenced—that is, the heated milk will cream less rapidly and somewhat less completely than the raw milk. The milk will also acquire, which is objectionable to many people, what is known as the cooked taste. It is not probable that the nutritive value of the milk is injured; in fact, at the present time many physicians advocate the heating of children's milk to the boiling point.

8. Raise well the heifer calves from cows, which for one or more generations have made large and profitable productions of milk and butterfat.

9. Breed heifers to drop their first calves at 24 to 30 months of age. Give cow six to eight weeks' rest between lactation periods.

10. Join a dairy cattle breeders' association. It will help you to keep posted and in touch with the best and most modern ways of managing your dairy herd.

IMPORTANCE OF DAIRY COW

Most Economical Producer of Human Food of All Domestic Animals—She Is Here to Stay.

(By N. J. FRASER, Illinois.)

Since the cow is the most economical producer of human food of all our domestic animals, and as she can live and produce milk on a ration composed entirely of roughage, she will be the animal that will be resorted to in order to convert half of the energy of our common crops, which is otherwise unavailable, into human food.

Another reason why the cow is here to stay, and will always be of vital importance in sustaining human life, is that babies and invalids cannot be nourished on cornmeal mush alone.

For these reasons, even after the time comes that there is an actual struggle for human food, the dairy cow will still be a vital and abiding factor in a system of permanent agriculture, if we are to retain a high degree of civilization.

BASED ON EXPERIENCE.

Tom—I wonder why it is that Diggsby has but little respect for old age.

Jerry—Probably because of his long acquaintance with boarding-house poultry.

ITEM ONE.

"I hear, old man, that you are going to start housekeeping. What have you got toward it?"

"A wife."

EVADING THE ISSUE.

"Has that borrowing friend of yours dropped out of sight?"

"Oh, no; he manages to keep in touch with me."

ITS NATURE.

"I suppose a prima donna's life is very exciting."

"On the contrary, it is more of a sing-song affair."

HIS CHIEF SOURCE OF TROUBLE.

"Have any trouble with your ear?"

"Not much. And I wouldn't have any if I could get over the habit of taking the engine apart myself."

ANOTHER ONE OVER.

"What is all that cheering for?"

"That's a sign that somebody in the next room has just finished his after-dinner speech."

For Rheumatism.

As soon as an attack of Rheumatism begins apply Sloan's Liniment. Don't waste time and suffer unnecessary agony. A few drops of Sloan's Liniment on the affected parts is all you need. The pain goes at once.

A grate sufferer writes:—"I was suffering for three weeks with Chronic Rheumatism and Stiff Neck, although I tried many medicines, they failed, and I was under the care of a doctor. Fortunately I heard of Sloan's Liniment and after using it three or four days am up and well. I am employed at the biggest department store in S. F. where they employ from six to eight hundred hands, and they surely will hear all about Sloan's Liniment. H. B. Smith, San Francisco, Cal.—Jan. 1915. At all Druggists.—Advertisement.

Absurd Medical Beliefs.

Even in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries there was a belief that dead bodies had medicinal virtues and mummies were obtained and ground to powder for making brews and broths and terrible decoctions. It was said that the mummies for this industry were obtained in Egypt.

A lazy liver leads to chronic dyspepsia and constipation—weakens the whole system. Doan's Regulents (25c per box) act mildly on the liver and bowels. At all drug stores. Advertisement.

Her Prejudiced Attitude.

"Yassah, I knowed de cawn," confessed Brother Bogus. "Owns right up, sah, dat I hit muh wife wid a neck yoke. But fum de way she's been howlin' and gwine on 'bout it since, you'd think I'd hit her wid a fou-hoss wagon!"—Kansas City Star.

Emersonian Philosophy.

When private men shall act with original views the ruler will be transferred from the actions of kings to those of gentlemen.

The Day After.

'Twas the day after Christmas, and all thru the flat
Every creature was moaning, including the cat.
The grown folks and children all writhed in their beds
With aches in their stomachs and pains in their heads.
While out in the kitchen the dishes unwashed
Explained in a trice that the cook had got sashed.
All scattered about from front room to back
Were the traces that Santa Claus leaves in his track.
Here lay a doll, there a train of toy cars.
A book and a box of most evil cigars.
A cheap magic lantern, a bum smoking set.
Pyrography tools and a queer tabouret.
The mail man, unheeded, brought bills by the score—
Neither I nor my wife would answer the door.
We both lay reflecting upon the tough day
When the rent man would call—just one short week away.

Then out on the porch there arose such a clatter
I climbed from the hay to see what what was the matter.
At the door stood a man so jolly and fat;
Dressed in black clothes and a shining silk hat,
I knew in a minute, without any stall,
That he was the doc on a hurry up call.
He entered the flat with vigorous strides
And cheerfully talked of each one's insides.
He dosed us all around and when he went away
I knew I'd be busted for many a day.

CAPT. STITES HONORED

Appointed To Membership Committee of Navy League of U. S.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Capt. Henry J. Stites, of Hopkinsville, Ky., has been appointed to the Membership Committee of the Navy League of the United States, and will help to represent that organization in his district in the active, aggressive campaign which it is carrying on in all parts of the country in behalf of adequate preparedness against invasion and disaster. He will co-operate with the members of the Navy League's state committee for Kentucky and will lend his energetic and enthusiastic support to the work undertaken to consolidate and organize the overwhelming sentiment of people of that state in behalf of measures of adequate preparedness. A special letter has been forwarded Mr. Stites by the Navy League, notifying him of his appointment.

The Navy League holds that this country's best defense lies in the three thousand or more miles of water which separates it from the nearest of its powerful neighbors. Should war ever be forced upon this country, the Navy League holds, its battles ought not to be fought by armies on American soil, but by trained fighting men in ships, far out on the ocean where destruction of life and property will be kept to a minimum, and the savage business of killing will be kept as far as possible from America's homes and shores.

To this end it has always advocated a navy second to none, which will be able to guarantee absolutely that no hostile army will be able ever to effect a landing upon the shores of our country, and in this demand it believes it is backed by unanimous public opinion all over the country. The most effective testimony to the popularity of the cause of the Navy League with representative citizens all over the country is the manner in which its membership has increased by leaps and bounds within the past few months until at present it numbers upon its rolls more than 60,000 members.

The Navy League is the oldest and best organized of the National Defense societies. It was founded and chartered in 1902, and among its officers and members are Admiral Dewey, Theodore Roosevelt, Cardinal Gibbons, Rt. Rev. Philip Rhinelander and Dr. Lyman Abbott, while many of America's most prominent women are among the members of its Woman's Section. Its accounts are and always have been opened to inspection. The headquarters of the Navy League are in the Southern Building in Washington, D. C., and further information will be gladly furnished upon application to the Secretary.

SOLDIERS BETTING THEY WILL NOT BE KILLED.

London, Jan. 3.—Lloyd's is offering the risk of 3 to 1 that Ferdinand, king of Bulgaria, will not be on his throne June 1, 1916. The risk started at 20 to 1, but the turn of affairs in the Balkans drove it down.

Most persons who have taken out policies on the Bulgarian here are Englishmen with business interests in the Balkans and Bulgaria. Their losses will be great if Ferdinand retains his throne and they are preparing for the minimum loss.

On the duration of the war, Lloyd's offers 10 to 1 that it will last beyond December, 1916. A new risk something like their Easter insurance against rain on new bonnets, is the one wherein the soldier bets with Lloyd's that he will not be killed. The risk, 8 to 1 against death, is said to be heavily patronized.

320 Bankruptcies.

All day long you'll sing how glad you are you're pals with

It's an easy job to change the shape and color of unsalable brands to imitate the Prince Albert tidy red tin, but it is impossible to imitate the flavor of Prince Albert tobacco! The patented process protects that!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

You take this testimony straight from the shoulder, men. You can smoke a barrel of P. A. without a kick! It hands out all the tobacco happiness any man ever dreamed about, it's so smooth and friendly. It's a mighty cheerful thing to be on talking-terms with your pipe and your tongue at the same time—but that's what's coming to you sure as you pin your faith to Prince Albert!

Everywhere tobacco is sold you'll find Prince Albert awaiting your cheerful visit. Buy it in tidy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound humidor—and in that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco so fit!

WHAT GERMANY

MIGHT CONSIDER.

The two things most thoroughly demonstrated thus far in the war are: First, that England's sea power cannot be broken, and that the British Empire has neither yet been shaken nor is likely to be disturbed; while the second fact is that Germany's amazing power of organization and unified action, together with her advantages due to operating from an inner position, renders her practically invincible—at least from the defensive standpoint,—in a war on land. England cannot and will not give up the war while Belgium is either directly or indirectly under German control. France cannot and will not give up the war with enemies entrenched upon French soil. The German authorities now understand that they are not to remain in Belgium or France.

As a piece of permanent peace, they would probably be willing to make some slight concessions to France on the Alsace-Lorraine frontier. As regards Russia, the most responsible German probably no longer have any thought of holding Russian territory as spoils of war. But they would like to create the Kingdom of Poland, chiefly out of Polish Russia, and to have Poland as a buffer state. They would also probably like to see Rumania gain something to the northward by taking back Bessarabia from Russia, in order that the Russians might be more effectively kept from the Balkans and Constantinople. Germany would undertake to find her own compensation by securing the consent of Europe and the world to undertake the development of the Turkish Empire and to hold a position of recognized leadership,—not of formal rulership,—throughout the southeast of Europe. Thus Germany is taking the Balkan campaign very seriously, and is pushing the uncompleted parts of the Bagdad railroad system with intense energy. —From "The Progress of the American Review of Reviews for January, 1916."

Mortality Rates Lowered.

In his annual report Dr. A. T. McCormack, secretary of the State Board of Health, points to the fact that the death rate from typhoid fever in Kentucky has been reduced from forty-five per 100,000 five years ago to 26.9 during the year just ended. The death rate from tuberculosis five years ago was 225 for each 100,000 population, while last year it was 201.6.

GERMANS USE GAS ARMOR

Mask Protects Respiration and Vaseline Saves the Eyes of the Soldiers From Vapor.

Paris Excelsior gives interesting details of German preparations for gas attacks:

"Every German soldier is furnished with a chloroform mask, which has the advantage of fitting exactly over the nose and mouth, without leaving any space for noxious fumes to penetrate. Inside the mask he places two wads of ordinary lint dressing folded six or seven times. When the alarm is given these wads are soaked in a saturated solution of hyposulphite of soda, or chalk water, which stops the action of the chloride by transforming it into hypochlorite, or chloride of lime. Each regiment is abundantly supplied with these articles. To save the eyes they have given up spectacles, which are not easy to fit. Instead, they simply put a piece of vaseline the size of a pea beneath the under lid. By rubbing gently the whole eye is covered with a protective varnish, which does not hinder the sight and saves the eyes perfectly."

VALUE OF DRAINAGE

Much Swampy Land May Be Made Quite Productive.

WORK IS ONLY FAIRLY BEGUN

Lands Too Wet for Profitable Production of Crops Should Be Drained—Improves Soil by Making it More Porous and Friable.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

By simple drainage much of the wet swampy farm land which cannot be cultivated in its present condition may be made productive. There is also many a piece of cultivated land which is not producing what it could be made to do if it were properly drained. Indeed, according to the department's specialists, drainage in the United States is only fairly begun, and its immense possibilities are but little known. Farmers' Bulletin No. 524 of the United States department of agriculture discusses this subject in some detail.

Lands that are too wet for the most profitable production of crops, such as wet level land, low spots, and the dry subsoils of flat areas on the summits of knolls, river and creek bottoms, and peat bogs, should be drained. Even uplands may often be drained with profit, especially hillside subject to erosion or inclined to be "spouty." Indeed, drainage is profitable wherever it is necessary to the fullest use of the land. It is not uncommon for lands too wet for cultivation to produce, when drained, 60 to 70 bushels of corn or oats or from one to one and a half bales of cotton to the acre. On much of the drained land the increase of yield is from 25 to 100 per cent, and by the increased yield and decreased cost of cultivation the value of the land is often doubled.

Improves the Soil.

Drainage improves the physical condition of the soil by making it more porous and friable. Thus stiff soils are made more easy to work. The roots of plants are given a greater feeding depth by the lowering of the water level and hence the ability of crops to utilize moisture is increased. Well-drained soils absorb more rainfall than undrained soils, thus decreasing erosion and damage by floods.

Drainage warms the soil. Heat from the sun acts directly upon the soil when excessive moisture is removed by drainage. This is noticeable in the North, where the planting season is from one to two weeks earlier on drained land than on similar land when undrained. The danger of damage by frost both in the spring and in the fall is reduced. Warming of the soil also causes the seed to germinate more readily, thereby giving a better stand of crops and causing the plants to grow more promptly.

Drained land can be plowed earlier in the spring than undrained land. Crops can be cultivated sooner after a rain, and if covered tile drains are used instead of open ditching machinery can be used to better advantage and the cost of cultivation decreased.

Health conditions are also improved by the drainage of swamps and standing water. The breeding places for mosquitoes are removed, with the consequent abolishment of malaria in the locality.

Practical System.

The most practical drainage system is one that is adequate, permanent, uses the least possible land, and is not a hindrance to cultivation. The drains which empty into either open or closed outlets most nearly provide such a system. By the open-ditch system much valuable land is occupied, the drainage is seldom thorough, and the ditches become filled and have to be cleaned out. Open ditches sometimes occupy as much as ten per cent and frequently five per cent of the area drained. Thus it is that tile drains, while more expensive to install, are generally the most economical in the end.

In laying out a drainage system, the outlet is the first consideration. On rolling or hilly lands channels have usually been washed out, although they may need to be straightened and cleaned out. On low, level land it is usually necessary to dig open ditches, and they should be straight and deep, since curves check the flow of water, while in a deep ditch water generally flows more rapidly and less vegetation is likely to be sent. The outlets should be deep enough to take care of the flow from branch drains, which may necessarily be placed low to secure sufficient fall.

Open ditches work well with a drop of four feet to the mile, although some, of necessity, have no more than one foot drop. In loamy soils subject to freezing the sides of the ditch should have a slope of 45 degrees, in sandy soils a greater slope, while in stiff soils subjected to little freezing a less slope will do.

Outlet ditches should usually follow the natural course of the water, although efficiency and economy may necessitate a diversion from the natural watercourse.

Use of Open Ditches.

When the ditch runs through a field, the earth should be leveled back from the bank, so that no more ground than is necessary will be lost from cultivation. When the value of the land is high, the open ditch should not be used where it is practicable to use tile. In the middle West tiles as large as three feet in diameter are frequently used, and, being covered over, they do not occupy tillable land or divide a field. Where properly laid, there is little danger of the tiles filling and practically no maintenance cost. Because water runs faster through tiles they can be much smaller than the open ditch. The latter, however, has an advantage in holding more water after a rain, though, perhaps, not carrying more. The farmer is in a position to judge for himself when it is profitable to use tile.

PROFIT FROM ALFALFA ACRE

Greatest, Most Profitable and Productive Swine Forage—Test Made at Iowa Station.

(By JOHN M. EVVARD, Chief in Swine Production, Animal Husbandry Section, Iowa Experiment Station.)

Recently there was returned a profit of a little over $250 for the operations carried on an acre of alfalfa; the corn was charged at 60 cents, and the hogs sold for $7.

Now these are the returns for the happy combination of self-fed corn and an acre of self-fed alfalfa, taking young growing fattening pigs to the weight of 250 pounds, no charge being made for the alfalfa. Charge the alfalfa at $10 an acre and there remains $240 pork values (assuming no loss of pigs) over and above feed costs. Labor is arbitrarily assumed to be offset by the manure residues remaining; of course a charge of $1 a pig labor could be charged and still leave for the acre's operation a net return of $206.

The alfalfa acre carried 44 pigs on the average from weaning to market, these pigs finishing at 250 pounds, fat and high-dressing. No alfalfa, of course, was left on the acre; it was all pastured. This is not the best practice, but it shows what corn on an alfalfa acre will do when the corn as well as the alfalfa is pushed to the limit.

These pigs gained 1.46 pound a day during the entire grazing season of 140 days, requiring 357 pounds of corn feed for a hundred pounds gain, this costing $4.14 with 60-cent corn. The charge for alfalfa on the basis of a hundred pounds gain amounts to $12 (12 cents), making a total cost of $4.26.

After paying for the alfalfa and crediting all the profits to the corn, the net return per bushel was, with $7 hogs, almost a dollar, or exactly 98.5 cents.

But let us remember that alfalfa in itself will not net $250 on the acre, or corn alone 98.5 cents to the bushel when fed to $7 hogs.

It is the very happy combination of self-fed corn and self-fed alfalfa that does these things.

The cost of gains with 60-cent corn, and $10 alfalfa at $4.25 perhaps tells the story best—although it is well to bear in mind that after all is said and done in the swine forage story that corn and alfalfa are pre-eminently the most profitable corn belt doublet of economic feeds that it is possible to grow and fatten swine on.

Alfalfa is our greatest, most productive, most profitable swine forage and corn is our greatest, most productive, most profitable swine growing feed.

Why not plan the swine feeding with alfalfa and corn as the basal feeds?

Storage for Cabbages.

Where only a few cabbages are to be stored it is a good plan to wrap the heads in newspapers and put them on shelves in a cool cellar.

Skim milk buttermilk is the equal of natural buttermilk in practically every important respect.

Works of Art.

There will be an art exhibition held at the Carnegie Library, Saturday, Jan. 8th, throughout the day. The pictures displayed are a loan procured through the Federation of Women's Clubs and can only be had on that day. The Italian, English, Flemish, Dutch, French, German and Spanish schools are represented in this collection. Some of these pictures are rarely seen in Art Stores; others will be recognized as old friends. Artists that we would like to know better, such as Giotto, Giorgione, Bellini, Mantegna, will be shown, together with Van Dyke, Rubens, Titian and others. A large crowd is expected to see these works of art and the members of the Magazine club will be present to welcome visitors. No admission will be charged.

HOW TO SERVE LAMB

SUGGESTIONS THAT MAY BE NEW TO HOUSEWIVES.

Preferences of the Family Are, of Course, the First Things to Be Considered—Best Method of Utilizing the Broth.

"You know I said the other day that I had some good recipes for neck and breast of lamb." Mrs. Happy Home-maker opened her manuscript "cook book" and proceeded to read:

"The neck may be used for various kinds of stews. The neck cut in small pieces is boiled with onions, turnips, and carrots, and when almost done add half a cupful of flour made into a thick, creamy paste with milk. Let this boil with the stew for ten minutes.

"Or use this recipe: Put the pieces of lamb into a frying pan with melted butter, and turn until the pieces are a light brown; then pour into a stew pot with two or three large tomatoes (or a can of tomatoes if the fresh ones are not in season), an onion, and a few carrots. When this is served it makes an appetizing addition to circle the dish with boiled rice.

"The breast may be used as a roast with browned potatoes and vegetables, and served with a sauce of tomatoes.

"But this is the way the family likes it best. Take the lamb bones, which the butcher will take off the forequarter in boning it for you, and to these add the breast, putting all into a pot to boil with one onion, one large carrot, a couple of potatoes for thickening, and two tomatoes for flavor. When the breast is thoroughly cooked carefully take out all the bones so as not to break the meat. Press the meat between two large plates, with a weight on top so that the meat may be molded into an even roundness. This may be served cold with a garnishing of lettuce and cold vegetables, with salad dressing, and is a delicious hot day luncheon dish. Or the mold may be cut into slices and fried in bread crumbs.

"The broth which is made from the liquor in which the breast has been cooked is very rich; add a little barley or rice and you will have a wholesome and ample supper for the little folks.

"In buying a shoulder of pork ask the butcher to bone it for you, then tie into a round roast so it will keep its shape. Rub well with salt and pepper, and a little thyme or sage, too, gives a pleasant flavor, and roast in a medium hot oven. If you do not use a self-basting roaster, the meat should be basted often. A shoulder of pork weighing eight pounds takes about 40 minutes to cook. This may be served with apples baked in the same pan, if an open roaster is used or with apple sauce."—Kansas City Star.

Non-Fattening Foods.

Many foods which are nourishing do not produce fat. The two kinds which create fatty tissues are fats of all kinds, like butter, lard, drippings (food cooked in them), and the large group of foods classed as starches. If eaten in excess starch will be laid up in the body as superfluous or stored fat.

Following is a list of nourishing foods which will not produce excess fat:

Light meats, like chicken, white fish, lean beef; all vegetables except potatoes, parsnips and other starchy kinds; fruit of all kind except bananas, grain or cereals, except oatmeal and rice; beans and cheese; milk, in small quantity, eggs.

Milk and eggs will fatten unless exercise is taken or the body is in a very run-down condition. Cocoa is a fattening drink also.

Chicken Truffles.

Chop the raw meat of a four-pound chicken very fine; add four well-beaten eggs, one at a time, with one-third of a pint of thick cream and salt and pepper to taste. Cook in buttered timbale molds, garnished with truffles, and set in a pan of hot water in a slow oven. Cover with buttered paper. Bake half an hour. Serve with this sauce: Two tablespoonfuls each of butter and flour, a cupful of chicken stock or milk, turned onto the broken yolks of three eggs.

Grape Sago.

Wash one cupful of sago, and soak it in three cupfuls of cold water for two hours. Cook till transparent and add one cupful of grape juice and one cupful of sugar. Turn into a mold and serve very cold. Currant jelly may be substituted for grape juice by thinning a tumbler of the jelly with one cupful of boiling water.

About Roast Pork.

When buying a strip of pork to roast, get your butcher to saw the long bone on the top of the strip lengthwise instead of cracking it at each chop. When roast is done it can be taken off and each slice cut without any splintered bones.

Grape and Meat Salad.

After washing a bunch of white and a bunch of purple grapes remove the seeds with a sharp knife. Make nests of watercress on lettuce leaves and fill with the grapes and nuts. Serve with a French dressing.

To Reheat Rolls.

Roll either cold rolls or biscuits in wet paper, lay in a pan and let them remain in a hot oven until the paper scorches. They will then taste as if freshly baked.

Dread of An Operation.

N. Manchester, Ind.—Mr. Eva Bashore, of this place, say: "I suffered female misery of every description. Two doctors attended me, and advised an operation. I lost weight until I weighed only ninety pounds. I dreaded an operation, and, instead, began to take Cardui. In a short time I gained 25 pounds, and feel as well as I ever did. Cardui, I am sure, saved my life." Cardui is to day used in thousands of homes, where it relieves pain and brings back strength and ambition. It is a woman's medicine, for woman's ailments, and you are urged to try it for your troubles. Ask your druggist. He will tell you about Cardui.—Advertisement.

Nearest Fixed Star.

Alpha Centauri is the sun nearest to the earth of all the fixed stars. One of the most magnificent of the first magnitude stars even to the naked eye, the telescope reveals it all suddenly as two great masses of solar fire, the flames, red, yellow and blue, blown upward and outward to the right by the winds of the universe. The great pair of rainbow flames appear to stand out like tangible objects in the depths of infinitely remote space many times larger than the naked eye stars. One of the two revolves about the other in a period of 80 years. It is one of the most stupendous and awful visions and the most absolutely beautiful that eyes have ever seen.

How To Cure Colds.

Avoid exposures and drafts. Eat right. Take Dr. King's New Discovery. It is prepared from Pine Tar, healing balsams and mild laxatives. Dr. King's New Discovery kills and expels the cold germs, soothes the irritated throat and allays inflammation. It heals the mucous membrane. Search as you will, you cannot find a better cough and cold remedy. Its use over 45 years is a guarantee of satisfaction.—Advertisement.

WITH COFFEE FLAVOR

VARIOUS PREPARATIONS THAT MAY BE RECOMMENDED.

Aside From Its Use as a Beverage There Are a Number of Ways in Which Delicious Bean May Be Employed.

Coffee is a flavor always at the call of the cook, and one that can be relied on when fruits fail. The medicinal qualities of coffee are due to its aromatic essential oil—and it is that, of course, which gives the flavor. As the roasting brings out the flavor of the oil, the roasting should be carefully done. When using coffee for flavoring make it by percolating boiling water through the freshly ground beans.

Coffee Jelly.—Soak an ounce of gelatin in a cupful of cold water and dissolve in three cupfuls of boiling water. Add two cupfuls of sugar and two of strong coffee, and strain into a mold. Harden and serve with whipped cream, garnished with macaroons.

Coffee Mousse.—Boil a cupful of coffee and two tablespoonfuls of sugar together, and slowly pour it over two egg yolks, stirring all the time. Strain when cold and add two cupfuls of whipped cream. Pour into a mold and pack in ice and salt for three or four hours. Serve in tall glasses.

Coffee Icing.—Melt two cupfuls of sugar and boil until it forms a string from the spoon. Stand the saucepan in a dish of cold water until the sugar begins to form on the sides, and then work in a cupful of strong coffee, pressing it against the sides of the saucepan with a spoon. When the mass granulates it is ready to use as icing.

Coffee Cake.—Cream half a cupful of butter with two cupfuls of sugar. Add half a tablespoonful of cloves and a tablespoonful each of mace and cinnamon, with a cupful of molasses. Beat for five minutes, and add the creamy yolks of three eggs and a cupful of strong coffee. Then alternately add five cupfuls of sifted flour and the whites of three eggs beaten stiff, a teaspoonful of saleratus dissolved in hot water. Lastly stir in a quarter of a pound each of raisins and currants. This will make two loaves. It should be kept covered after it is baked, as it loses flavor if left uncovered.

Coffee Pudding.—Beat four eggs thoroughly and add five tablespoonfuls of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt. Gradually add two cupfuls of boiling milk and half a cupful of hot coffee. Pour into a pudding dish and bake in a pan of water in a hot oven. Serve very cold.

Coffee Creams.—Mix strong coffee with confectioners' sugar, a little vanilla, a tablespoonful or two of cream and the white of an egg. Add enough sugar to make a stiff cream, mold into balls and put a walnut meat on each side of each ball.

Variety Important.

Variety is most important in arranging weekly menus. Beef may be one time served as a pot roast, another time as a roast. Gravies should be cooked in as great a variety of ways as the likes of the family admit. Vegetables are always to be had in great variety and may be cooked more ways than one. Of course, it is not wise to insist on dishes that are not liked simply for sake of variety.

There is delight in eating well-served food. Hence study the little details that tend to give neatness and effect in serving. A bouquet of cut flowers or a growing plant gives a bit of gaiety to the meal.

Jelly Roll.

Four eggs, well beaten, one cupful sugar, one cupful flour, one teaspoonful cream of tartar, one-half teaspoonful soda and a very little salt. Beat well. Spread thin in a large pan to bake. Takes perhaps 15 minutes. As soon as baked trim off the two long edges with a sharp knife, spread the cake with any kind of jelly and roll in a napkin while warm.

Peach Jelly.

Soak one-half cupful of gelatin, one cupful of sugar and one dozen of halved peaches for one hour, then pour over a cupful of boiling water, press all through a strainer and stir over the fire until gelatin dissolves, then set aside to cool. When ready to harden stir in a cupful of whipped cream with a pinch of soda. Put into a mold and set on the ice.

Southern Batter Bread.

Two cupfuls white Indian meal, one cupful cold boiled rice, three eggs well beaten, one tablespoonful melted butter, two and one-half cupfuls of milk, one teaspoonful salt, pinch of soda. Stir the beaten eggs into the milk, the meal, salt, butter, and last of all the rice. Beat well and bake quickly in a shallow pan. Recipe may be halved with success.

Improved Broom Cover.

Broom covers can be made more useful by setting a double ruffle of the cotton flannel, fuzzy side out, between the sides. This protects the covers so that they wear much longer, and is also very helpful in reaching the corners when dusting wall and ceilings.

Preparing Fowls.

After plucking and singeing fowls, dampen them slightly, sprinkle with flour, rub gently all over and wash in tepid water.

NEW PASTOR'S FIRST YEAR

Rev. J. Newton Jessup Celebrates His Anniversary at Christian Church.

REVIEWS THE YEAR'S WORK

Tells of His Impressions of City and Surrounding Country.

Sunday was the first anniversary of Rev. J. Newton Jessup at the First Christian Church. In remarking upon the occasion Mr. Jessup said among other things:

"I wonder how many of you had thought that this is the anniversary of my pastorate? One year ago I began my ministry here, and this is the beginning Sunday of the second year. One year ago I stood before you in fear and trembling. You had never seen me. It is a fine thing for me that you never had. You had taken me on faith. It took an extraordinary amount of faith to stick to your bargain.

We have spent the year in getting acquainted—a little bit. "It is said the first year of married life is the most trying. The newly married couple spent the first year in "finding each other out;" in adjusting themselves to one another; in accommodating themselves to each other's temperament, habits of thought, ways of looking at things, peculiarities, idiosyncrasies, etc.

"This adjustment is necessary, and if they get through this ordeal safely, they will likely get all right the rest of the way. The man says (to himself, of course), sometime after the honeymoon has waned, "Well, well, I thought she was an angel. I believe after all she is just flesh and blood; with a big preponderance of just human."

"And many a woman has said in the course of the first year."

"Goodness gracious, if I were only out of this scrape, I would never get into another one like it."

But still, if they really love each other, these barriers will not prove insuperable, and in time there will be the fullest accord and peace.

"So we spent the first year in getting acquainted, and I think we have not had our "first quarrel."

"In the adjusting process we were both amateurs. Neither I nor you had had much experience in that process. You had not had such an experience in eighteen years; I had only one such experience in sixteen years. No doubt we were both bunglers in the adjusting business.

"Well, we have managed "to adjust" some how or other; by main-strength and awkwardness as we used to say; and, on the whole have done fairly well. Let it go at that.

"There are some things to which I am glad to bear abundant witness. I like Hopkinsville. I like this country. Nature has been prodigal in her bestowments. A fairer or more promising country one could scarcely wish. Here abundance and comfort and the simple life reign, and if one could add these to the boon of contentment, he need not want more.

"There are hundreds and hundreds of lovely people in Hopkinsville. They are christian; their ideals are christian; they are refined, cultured. It is a pleasure to know them and be associated with them. If one could come to know these people intimately through a number of years, I know he would come to love them.

In the year just closed two hundred and one people have been added to the church; ninety-nine of these by baptism. The average of those baptized was eighteen and one half years. Thirty-five have moved away, leaving a net gain of one hundred and sixty-six. The resident membership is now nine hundred and seven. Money raised by all departments of church life for all purposes, $9,191.55. Contributed to missions and benevolences $2,926.14. The pastor has preached here and elsewhere 118 times; made 15 miscellaneous addresses; conducted 24 funerals; solemnized 7 marriages; attended numerous conventions, institutes and meetings for religious work and reform movements.

Texas has 700,000 qualified voters this year.

Another Cruiser Lost.

The British armored cruiser Natal has sunk after an explosion. Official announcement to this effect was made in London. The Natal was sunk Thursday afternoon while in the harbor as the result of an internal explosion. There are about 400 survivors of her 704 men. Seventeen officers, including Capt. Eric Back and Chaplain Algernon S. O. Sweet, and nine warrant officers, were lost.

ALTON PACKARD

Lyceum Attraction No. 3 at Tabernacle To-night.

It is related of Alton Packard, the cartoonist, who is here to-night, that he one day called, in company with his little daughter, upon his friend, Mr. Charles Dana Gibson, ushered into Mr. Gibson's studio where the great illustrator was busily at work upon a magazine picture. Gibson was complaining that he could not find suitable models for the picture, and then catching sight of the cartoonist's little daughter he said, "There is my model," and forthwith the little lady was posing and her likeness delineated by Gibson appeared the next week in Life.

Psyche of Capua.

Edmund von Mach in his "Handbook of Greek and Roman Sculpture," says that the marble Psyche of Capua, "so-called," was discovered in the ruins of the amphitheater in Capua, together with the Capuan Aphrodite, in the middle of the eighteenth century. The lower part of the nose has been restored and the entire figure has been polished to obtain a smooth surface. The figure seems too mature to be a Psyche and may be an image of Aphrodite. "Judged as a piece of architectural decoration this Psyche is perfect," says Von Mach. "Studied close at hand it is very disappointing. The body is indicated by graceful outlines, but there is no fine modeling anywhere."

IN MEMORY.

"There is a Reaper, whose name is Death,
And with his sickle cleav,
He reaps the bearded grain with a breath,
And the flowers that grow between."

It was not in cruelty—not in wrath that this Reaper visited the Howell community at 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 26th, 1915, and took from us one of our best and most beloved citizens, Mr. Will A. Stroube. Mr. Stroube was born June 7th, 1856, was 59 years of age. He was the third child of a family of seven children. He was married to Miss Kate White July 21, 1886.

To this happy union eight children were born. Three died in their infancy, and five survive him.

Mr. Stroube was a man of many admirable traits of character. His gentle, loving father heart, his deeds of love for others, and his deep spirit of sincerity, won for him many friends. He was a member of Liberty Christian church.

On account of illness of other members of the family, no services were held at the home. Rev. T. D. Moore, his former pastor, conducted brief services at the grave, after which the body was laid to its last resting place in the presence of many sorrowing friends, who expressed their sympathy by words, actions and beautiful floral designs.

Mr. Stroube had been in bad health for several years, but he had been confined to his bed only a few days. He is survived by his wife and five children, Dr. Stanley, Wiley, Sam, Willie and Katie, a sister, Mrs. J. B. Lander, of Madisonville, a brother, Mr. John Stroube, of Oak Grove, and the brothers of Mrs. Stroube, to whom he had been as a father.

How sad this home will be since he has been taken from them, but God knows best.

The memory of this devoted husband and father will bring great comfort to the sorrowing family. God had permitted him to live until his youngest child was almost thirteen years of age and he was also permitted to see his son, the pride of his heart, graduate from the medical college and begin his life's work.

May the splendor of the sunset grow more beautiful in contemplating the meeting in the home of the redeemed. We shall meet him in the eternal city, where sickness and sorrow are no more.

"On the joy of meeting,
In that home so fair,
With his glories all to share,
In that happy Eden Land,
We shall walk the golden strand,
With the shining angel bands,
Sorrowing family we sympathize
With you, in your dark hours of life,
May God bless you and abundantly supply His ministrations of love.
Remember that "The eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms."
